

Copenhagen Specs confirms the dates, March 5-6

Copenhagen Specs confirms the dates, March 5-6, and will be the first eyewear tradeshow in the Nordic Region to take place in 2022.

All restrictions have been lifted in Denmark from February 1st, so finally the optical business can meet in the same venue in Copenhagen.

CEO of Copenhagen Specs, Morten Gammelmark says: "We are delighted to finally gather the optical business after a very long period under the influence of covid. We look forward to inspire our visitors with new collections and products from our innovative exhibitors."

He continues: "It has been tough times in the event business, so we are hoping for the same support from exhibitors and visitors, as we did before the pandemic. We will of course still have a lot of focus on the pandemic and will make all necessary measures to ensure exhibitors and visitors.
